Sicilian Fruitcake - The Cask Wizard

The Sicilian Fruitcake from The Cask Wizard is a fascinating whisky matured in the rare White Marsala Cask. The cask was pre-aged for 15 long years with the Sicilian liqueur wine Marsala.

TASTING NOTES

NOSE

The nose of the Sicilian Fruitcake is a real treat. Strawberries dominate the flavour, followed by a refreshing hint of peach iced tea. A subtle almond note adds a nutty dimension, while wine/grape contributes a fruity undertone. The burnt caramel and dates lend the bouquet a sweet, slightly smoky depth that invites you to linger.

PALATE

On the palate, the whisky is oily and full-bodied. A clear sherry note dominates the flavour, complemented by overripe mango and blood orange, which offer a tropical sweetness and a slight acidity. Currants and refined sugar provide additional sweetness, while the ripe flat peach and freshly tanned leather give the whisky a complex and earthy depth.

FINISH

The finish is medium to long and leaves a warming sensation. Oak spice emerges, accompanied by red fruits and caramel, giving the finish a pleasant sweetness and complexity.

THOUGHTS

MARCEL

The Sicilian Fruitcake is a true flavor experience, delighting with its fruity notes and creamy mouthfeel. Despite the intriguing White Marsala cask maturation, it ultimately lacks that certain something to truly surprise – but it's definitely a great companion for enjoyment.

SASCHA

Technically clean and well-balanced, the Sicilian Fruitcake delivers a complex array of aromas shaped by the White Marsala pre-aging. Nevertheless, the cask influence remains rather subtle, making the whisky solid but not exceptional.
