TASTING NOTES

NOSE

The German whisky reveals a tantalising aroma of a berry mix accompanied by the intensity of blackberries. A subtle note of gudeenuss mingles with the sweet hint of almonds and chocolate, while a pinch of clove adds a spicy complexity. The overall flavour is spicy-sweet.

PALATE

Gilors unfolds on the tongue with a harmonious interplay of grape and spicy notes. A hint of leather and almonds gives the flavour a deep, rich dimension, while clove and star anise leave a pleasant warmth. The maltiness rounds off the flavour experience and ensures a balanced composition.

FINISH

The finish is short but remarkably spicy, with a light pinch of pepper that gradually fades into a gentle sweetness.

THOUGHTS

MARCEL

This Gilors Sherry Duett brings real fun to the glass with its berry-freshness and spicy notes – a whisky that simply delights without any fuss. Sure, the finish could be a bit longer, but the harmonious blend of sweetness and spice still makes for an enjoyable drink.

SASCHA

The Gilors 2014 Sherry Duett impresses with its clear structure and the balanced interplay of fruity berry aromas and spicy nuances. Despite the relatively short finish, the balance between maltiness and spice remains steady, making it a solid representative of German sherry whiskies.
