TASTING NOTES

NOSE

The first sniff reveals complex aromas. Ripe fruits such as peach and apple dominate, accompanied by a hint of citrus fruit and forest honey. A slight alcoholic note is present, but not overpowering. Caramel and butter biscuit provide additional sweetness, while a hint of orange adds a fresh component.

PALATE

The attack in the mouth is oily and syrupy, with an intense peach note reminiscent of a bomb. Sugary sweetness and vanilla combine with forest honey to create a harmonious overall picture. Interestingly, a slightly spicy cereal note emerges, reminiscent of rye, although there is no rye in the whisky.

FINISH

The finish is characterised by light oak, accompanied by a spicy aftertaste. The bread notes and the return of stone fruit ensure a lasting impression.
